Jenny Ellis
Olympic Groom

"By having a Grooms Association we at last have support, advice, a voice and most importantly a sense of belonging. For decades the sport has had the benefit of our passion for our job for very little reward. It's time to move into this Century. All grooms MUST join this association designed for us."

Richard Davison
British Dressage Team Member

"All trades should have their own professional association in order to raise standards and keep forward thinking and modern. Thank goodness the important status of grooms is finally beginning to be recognised and the creation of a grooms association is central to this."
